TERMS AND CONDITIONS

For every eligible sale of a Bromic product that you register in the Bromic Rewards Program you will be rewarded with Bromic Rewards Points based on the reward points applicable to the products in that transaction. By using our current Bromic Refrigeration Price List, you can see exactly how many Bromic Rewards Points each product is worth.

Once a sale has been made, you need to register the product's serial number with Bromic using the online "Register a Sale" input form. Upon registration of the sale, the Bromic team will validate that all the product details are correct. Once the sale is confirmed and payment for the product has been received by Bromic (in compliance with Bromic's Trading Terms with your business), you will be notified via email and you will be automatically rewarded with Bromic Rewards Points. Note that you should register sales with your Bromic Rewards Program account as soon as possible in order to gain the Rewards associated with such registration, and in any case within at least six months of the date of sale (Date of Sale is the date Bromic invoices your business for the goods/products), as the system will no longer accept registrations beyond such date.

You can use the Bromic Rewards Portal to track all of your sales, as well as your growing Bromic Rewards Points total. To redeem points for Rewards cards, simply use the online 'Redemption Form'. Redemptions are in the form of Rewards cards that will be sent via mail to the address you have registered with the program. Points are redeemed in minimum of 5,000 point blocks, each currently equal to a $50 Rewards card. Please see the "How to earn points" section at www.bromicrewards.com.au/public/rewards/ (the "Bromic Rewards Portal") to get more information on how you can earn Rewards points.
